Dear Mrs. Osterink
I will never forget the days back in my little home session back in the 8th grade. Also, in my English and civic classes. You gave me a great and firm beginning to my future high school years. My brother will be hear next year and I hope you do as great a job as you have done on me.
LARRY ORANGE

Dear Mrs Osterink
Thanks for all
the wonderful time
I have had Knowing
You.
Phyllis Curtiss

Dear Mrs Osterink
I have enjoyed being in your home room this year.
Have fun this summer.

Mrs Alice Osterink

Dear Mrs Osterink.
I will always remember
my days in the 8th grade when you sat us on our way through high school.
Best wishes to you and enjoy your future years of teaching Jim D. Young

Dear Mrs. Osterink,
Unfortunately I
missed out on getting 8th grade Civics class, but I've enjoyed knowing you
in my high school days!
George Graeber

Dear Mrs. Osterink.
Time flies so fast. I can hardly believe graduation is here. I'll never forget all you taught me. I'll never loose all my maps
and books.
May you continue
in the best of happiness
health and happiness
a grateful student,
Nancy Breitenstein

Dear Mrs. Osterink

I surely have enjoyed having had you as a teacher in the 8th grade. I will never forget the classes I had with you. Time sure flew by fast. Everytime I was in the session - I had to try and get away with trying to talk, because thats the thing I can do best. I sure will come back - next year to see you.

Best wishes,

Sharon Koster

Dear Mrs Osterink,

Throughout my life I shall always be grateful to you for teaching me how to study and the value of education. May you always be as pleasant and wonderful as you are now.

Best Wishes

Charlotte Barton

Dear Mrs. Osterink

It has become time to graduate from Old Lee High but although I leave the school behind I shall always take with me the knowledge and memories that our faculty has so wonderfully given us.

Thank You

Gordon Faure

Dear Mrs. Osterink,
I shall never forget my wonderful years in
Lee. I shall always remember
you as my favorite teacher. I hope to have you
as my favorite teacher
again someday. I understand
you will be at Lee
next year.
I shall write to you
often.
I
remain
Yours
sincerely

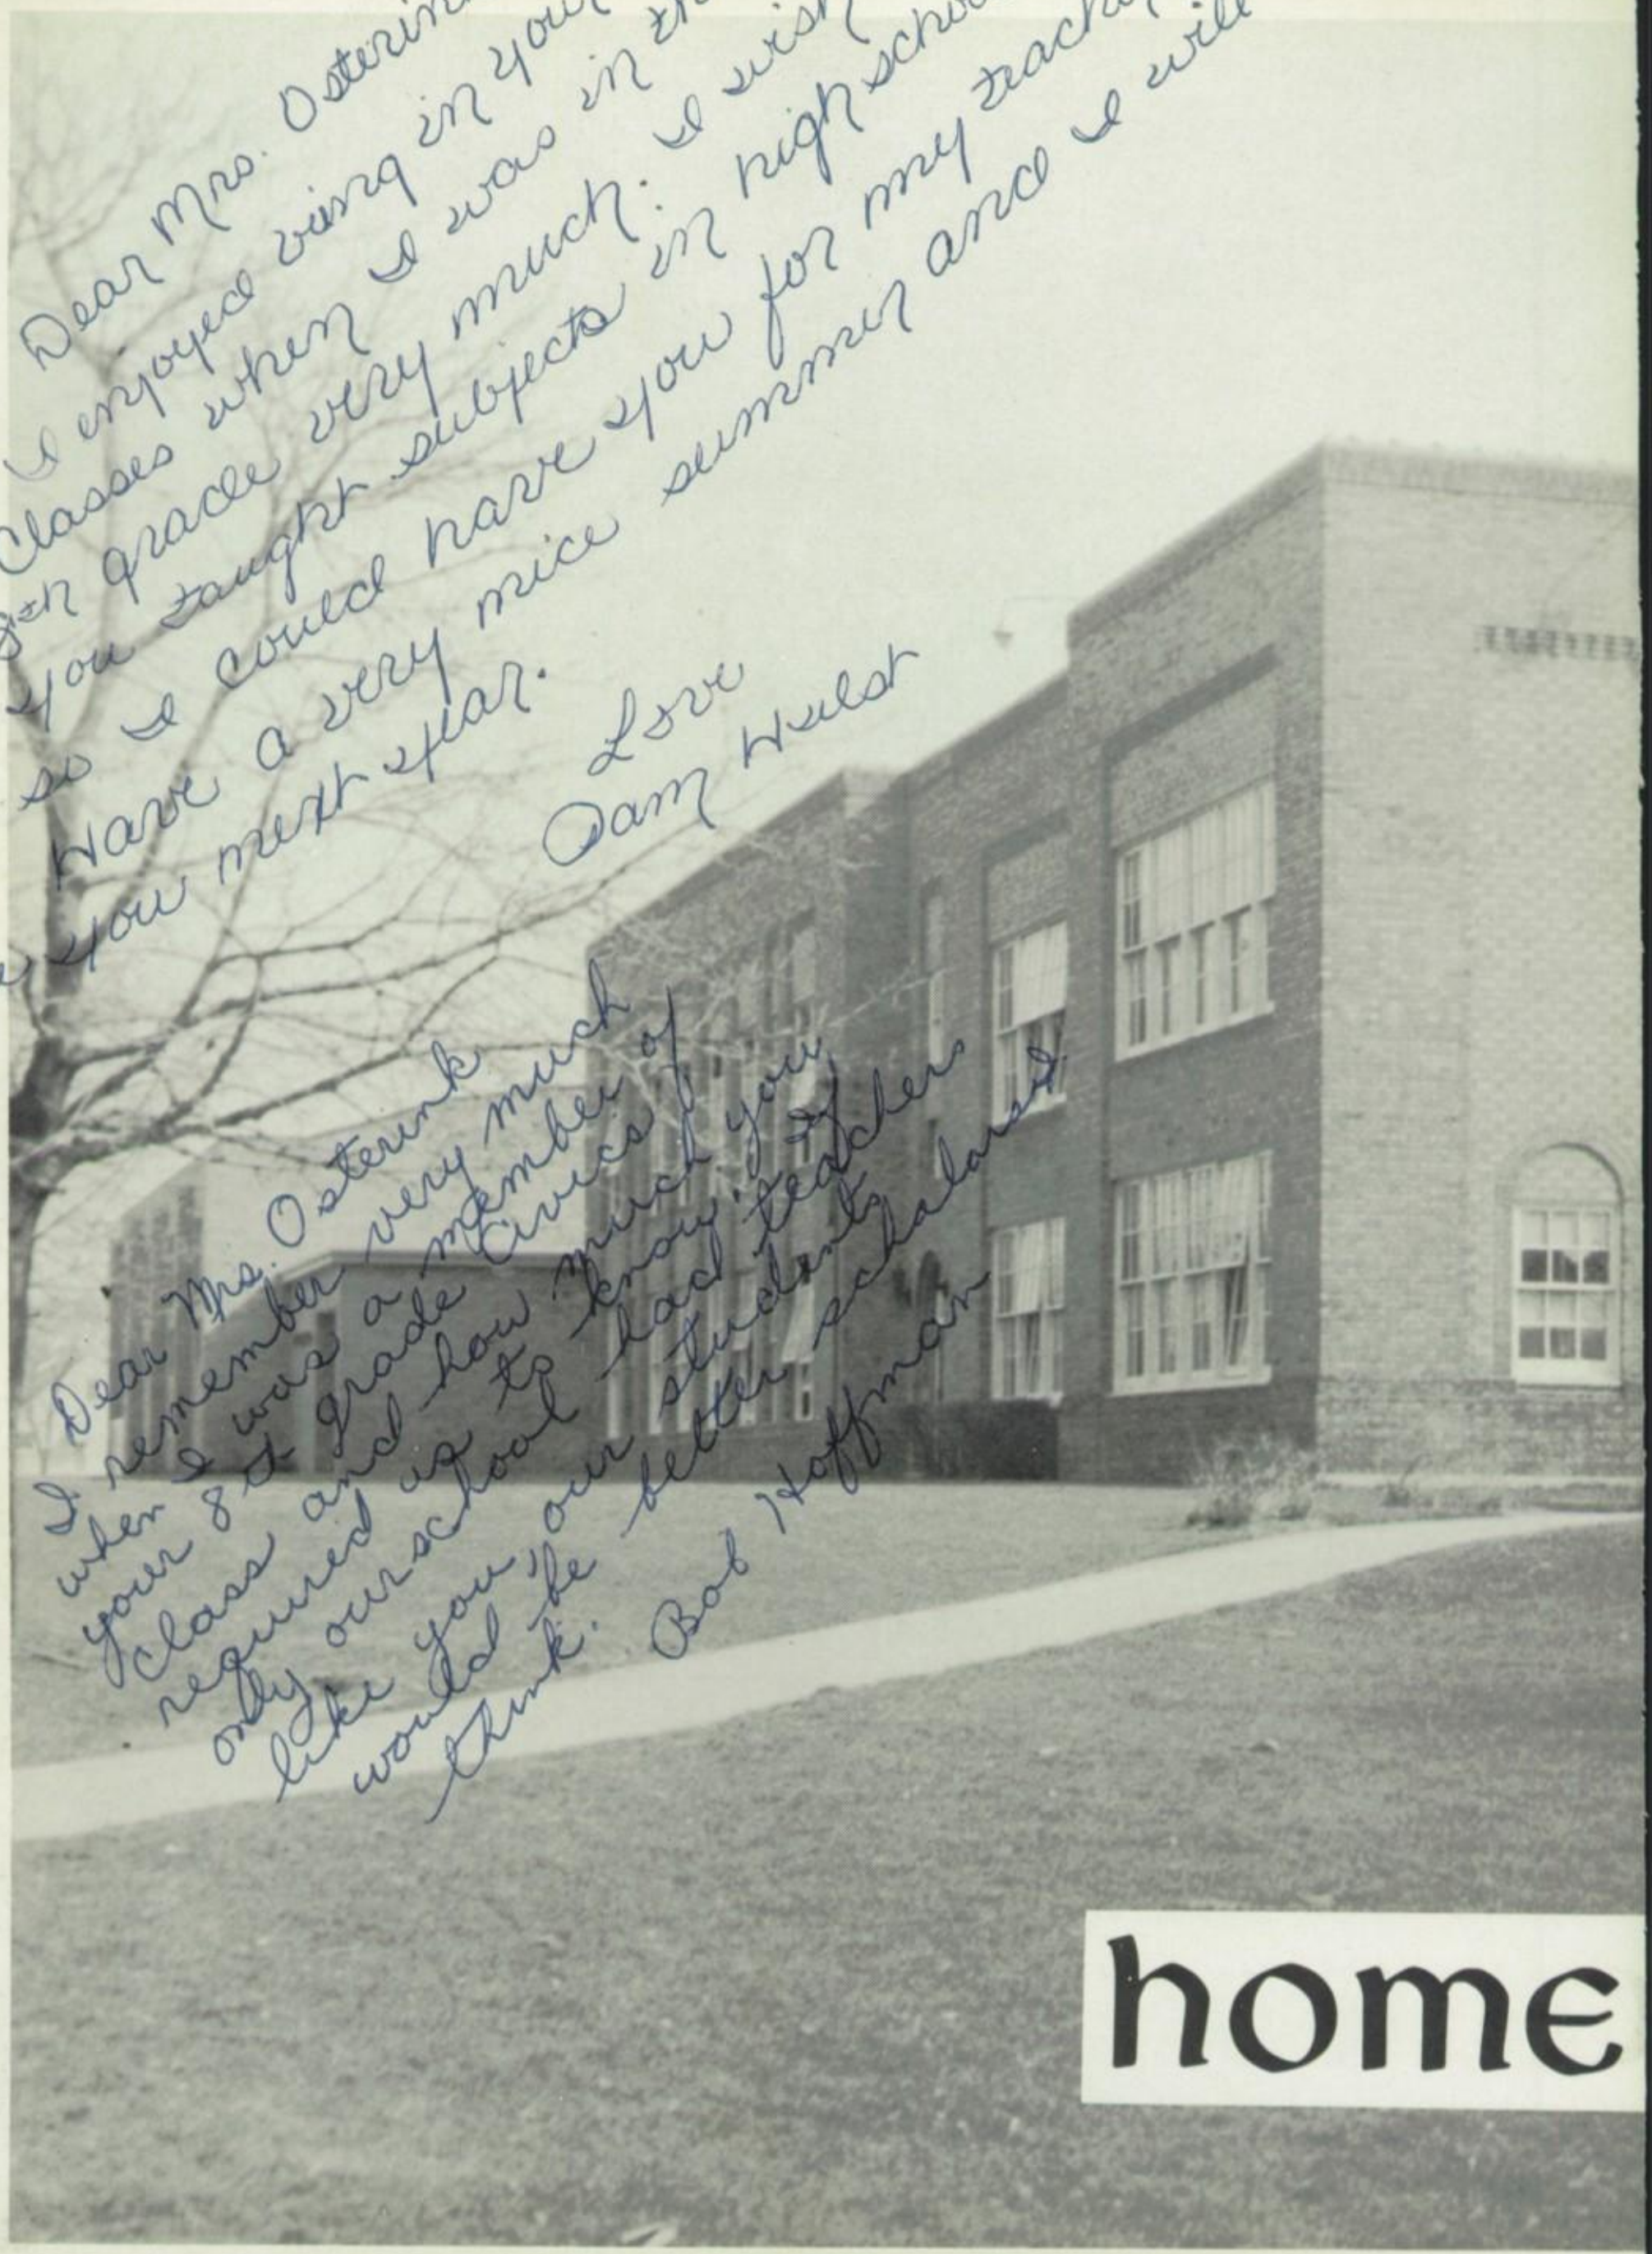
LEE HIGH SCHOOL

GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN



Dear Mrs. Osterink
I enjoyed living in your classes when I was in the 5th grade very much: I wish you taught subjects in high school
so I could have you for my teacher.
Have a very nice summer and I will see you next year.

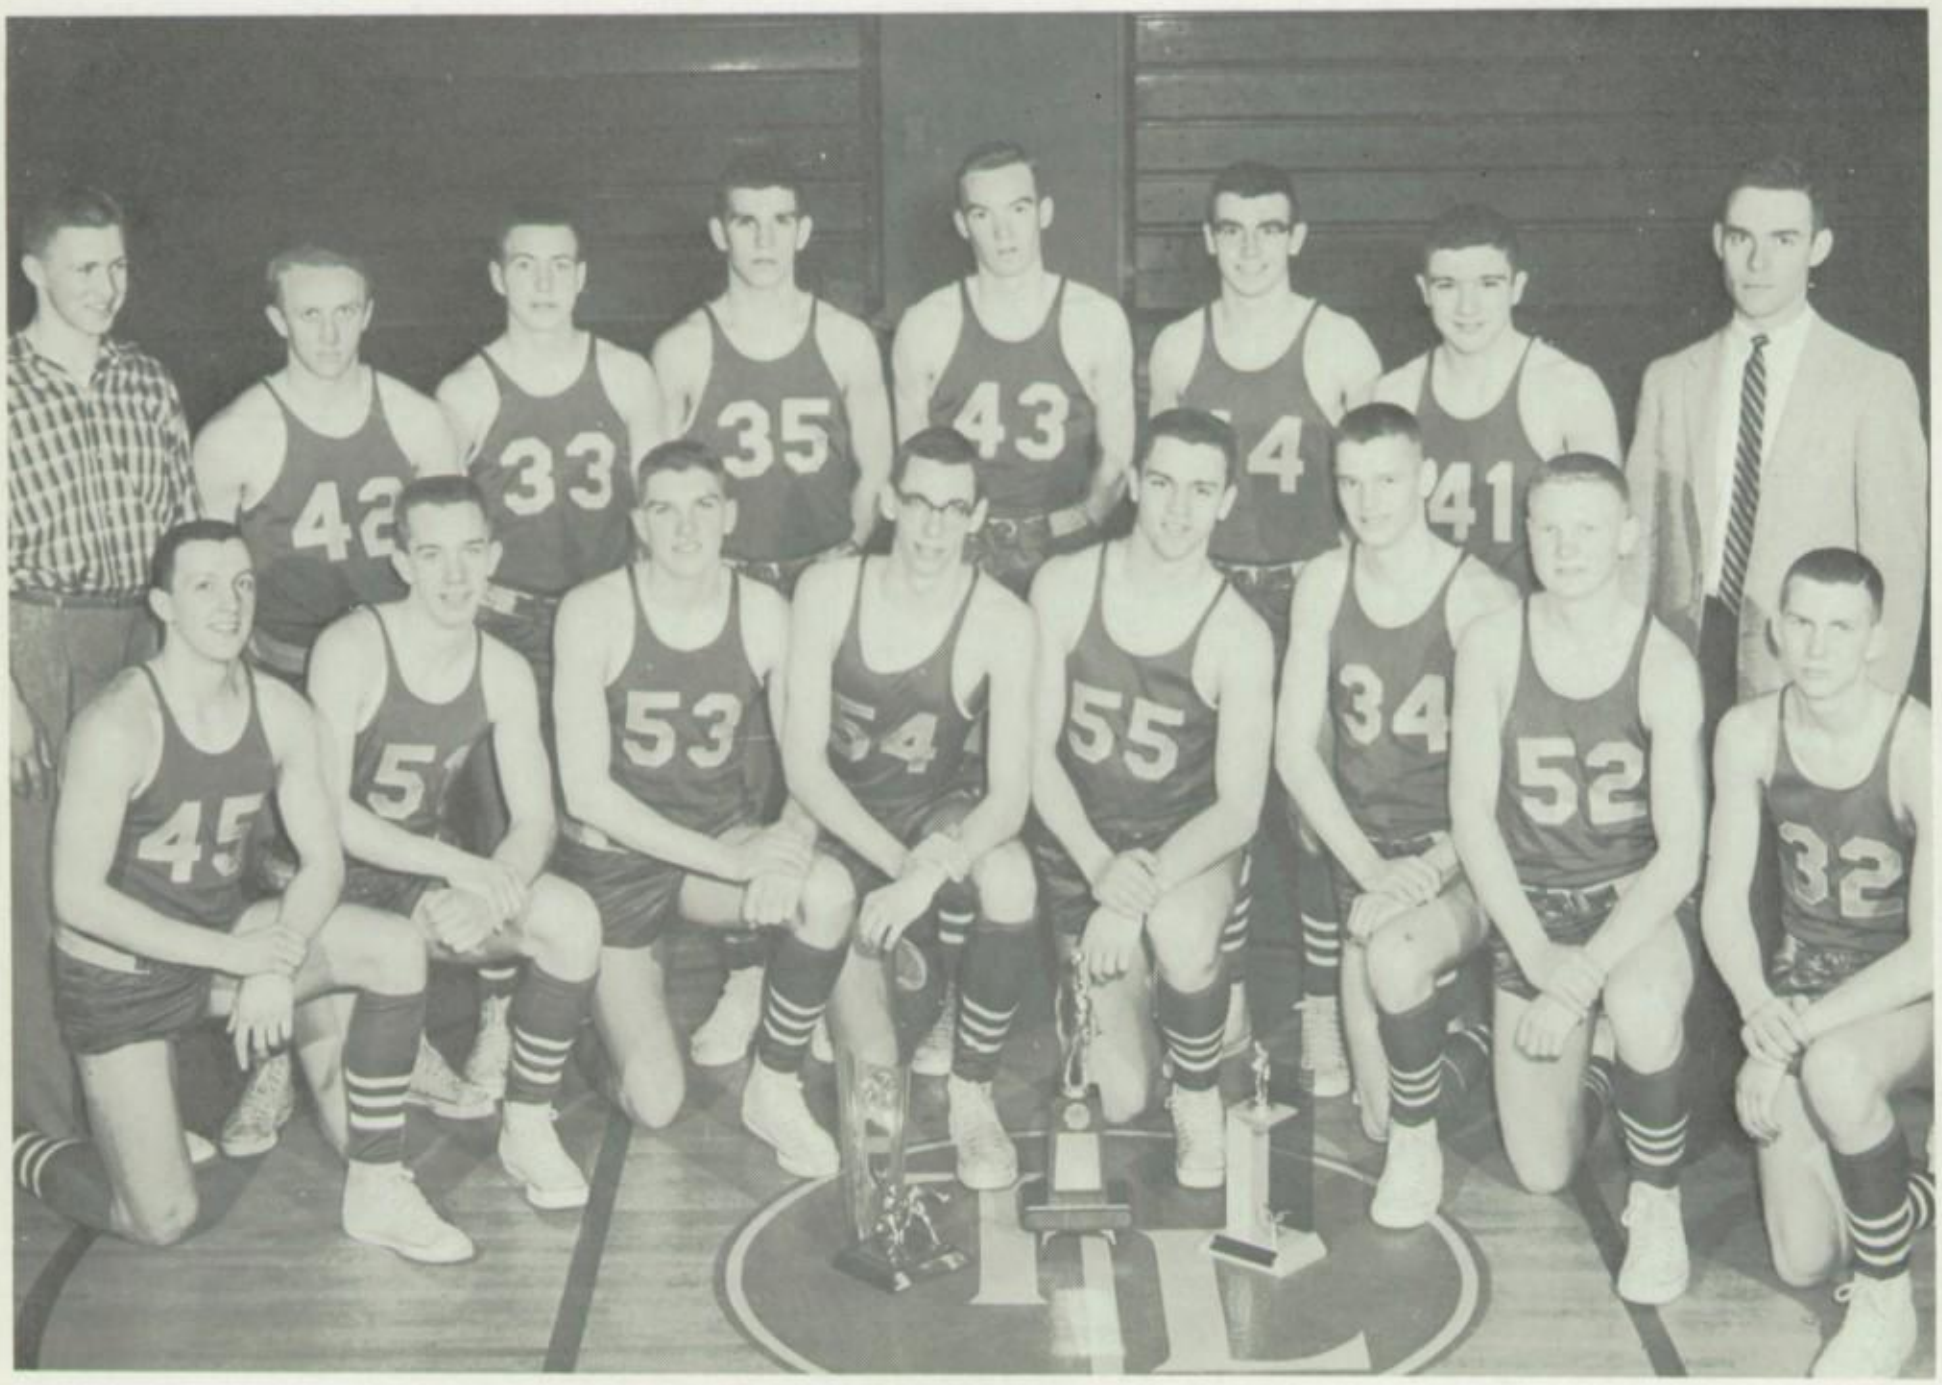
dedicated to



As another school year draws to a close, we shall have many fond recollections. Perhaps our most memorable one will be the basketball team who made Lee the home of the "Regional Champs" for the first time in our history.

On behalf of the Echo Staff, therefore, we wish to dedicate the 1959 Echo to you, the VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD of 1958-59, for you have so typified the new Rebel spirit which we have tried to capture within the pages of this book.

FOREWORD

This year, 1959, marks the 33rd birthday of the ECHO. As the close of the year draws near, we are reminded of many happy incidents, many lasting friendships, and many worthwhile experiences, which have been a part of our life at Lee High.

It is the purpose of this annual to serve as an ECHO of the highlights of those events which are forever past, and to make them an unforgettable memory. The Staff has decided to reminisce informally upon the past school year and to look on the "light side" of the Rebels' life.

We now present to you, the 1959 ECHO.

administration

Mr. Reuben L. Young B.S.
Principal
Cleary College
Eastern Michigan University

"May I have your attention please?" . . . . . "I'm still waiting for 117." This familiar statement has come to be known as the "Morning Rebel Rouser." With the installation of the new public address system, Mr. Young added this job to his already numerous duties as our principal. Despite his heavy schedule, he always has time for our problems.

Mr. Albert S. Zagers, A.B., M.A.
Director of elementary education
Western Michigan University
University of Michigan

Mr. Albert S. Zagers to many of us represents the first acquaintance with outside authority. Perhaps at first we were just a little bit afraid of him, but as we grew older we learned to admire and respect him for the things he did to make our elementary education more meaningful.

Mr. Lloyd C. Fry A.B., M.A.
Superintendent
Western Michigan College
University of Michigan

Mr. Fry is now finishing his fifteenth year at Lee. Throughout this period of time he has guided this institution through one building program and is now in the process of launching another.

Many problems arising from population growth have been met with the aid of this able administrator.

Mrs. Philip De Heer, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Ernest Forgette, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. C.V. Crow, President; Mrs. James Korf, Treasurer; Mrs. Dale Watts, Vice President.

Band Boosters

Mrs. Grace VanDomelen: A.B.; Hope College. English Literature. public speaking, sponsors Student Council, Future Teachers and Hall Monitors.

Bob Grunwell gives his book report before the English literature class.

speech

Knock — knock — knock, no one is at the door; it is just knees knocking together in speech class for the first couple of weeks. Soon the students become accustomed to speaking before the class and begin to prepare for spring forensics and dramatics.

government

Ding, Ding, Ding! Oh dear! Someone was not behaving himself in Mrs. Osterink's civics class. The main purpose of eighth grade civics is to give eighth graders an introduction to government, American style. Along with this comes a generous taste of homework and memorization.

Bob Klok, Judy Johnson, and Roy De Boer review the counties in the state of Michigan.

Mrs. Alice Osterink: A.B.; Calvin College. 8th grade history, civics and English.

Miss Joanne Lanahan: A.B.; Aquinas College. English, English Literature, Latin, sponsors Latin Club and 8th grade Y-Teens.

Miss Esther Seymer: B.S.; Western Michigan University. English.

language

Ubi ignis est? I don't know where the fire is, but I think I hear Nero fiddling! Most of the students who survived the mid-semester exams were thoroughly exhausted by the time they finished fighting their way through Caesar's Gaullic Wars. The class had to conjugate, translate and decline — and most of the grades did. In all seriousness, Latin does help the student gain a better understanding of the English language.

Basic to all English classes are the parts of speech: nouns, pronouns, prepositions, adverbs, adjectives, verbs, and . . . ah . . anyway there are eight. We learn never to consciously split an infinitive and that a preposition is not a good thing to end a sentence with. Three years of English are required at Lee.

The Latin class goes through vocabulary drills.

Ruth Verwoert, James Floyd, Susan Sullivan, and James Chambers examine a slide for viewing under the microscope.

Miss Irene M. Ferguson: B.S.; Aquinas College. Biology, sponsors Senior Y-Teens.

SCIENCE

Bugs, slugs, and "ughs," all these are an essential part of the biology class. Actually, biology is the study of living things. It is here that we learn to recognize the stomach of a starfish on sight. The first semester was comparatively mild; however, in the second semester, we rolled up our sleeves and dug in — to the frogs.

As if the smells in this class weren't repulsive enough, the chemistry class also insisted upon leaving behind their acrid odors.

In general science, the students come in contact with sound waves, ocean waves, and permanent waves. The latter being studied when an ultraviolet light was used to detect the presence of bleach in human hair.

Lift pump, force pump, and centrifugal force kept these students in a spin.

At the end of the year, they touched upon the essentials of biology, which is required of those geniuses that are lucky enough to pass general science the first time around.

Mr. Jay Vanderveen: A.B.; Calvin College, University of Michigan.

Paul Riewald, Tom Thompson, Gordon Konyndyk and David Crow perform a physics experiment on the heat of vaporization.

Mr. Edward Dykstra: B.S.; Western Michigan University; M.S. University of Michigan.

No, the home economics class is not making muffins again. That refreshing odor is rotten egg gas being generated by the chemistry class. This gas is known to the budding chemist as hydrogen sulfide. Along with this experiment, such things as ammonia, hydrogen and carbon monoxide were made. The carbon monoxide, of course, was made with great care and there were no fatalities.

Ken Quakkelaar, Doug Greenwold, Ned Neilson.

Mr. Henry C. Shisler A.B. University of Colorado. Algebra and Consumers Math. Senior Class Sponsor.

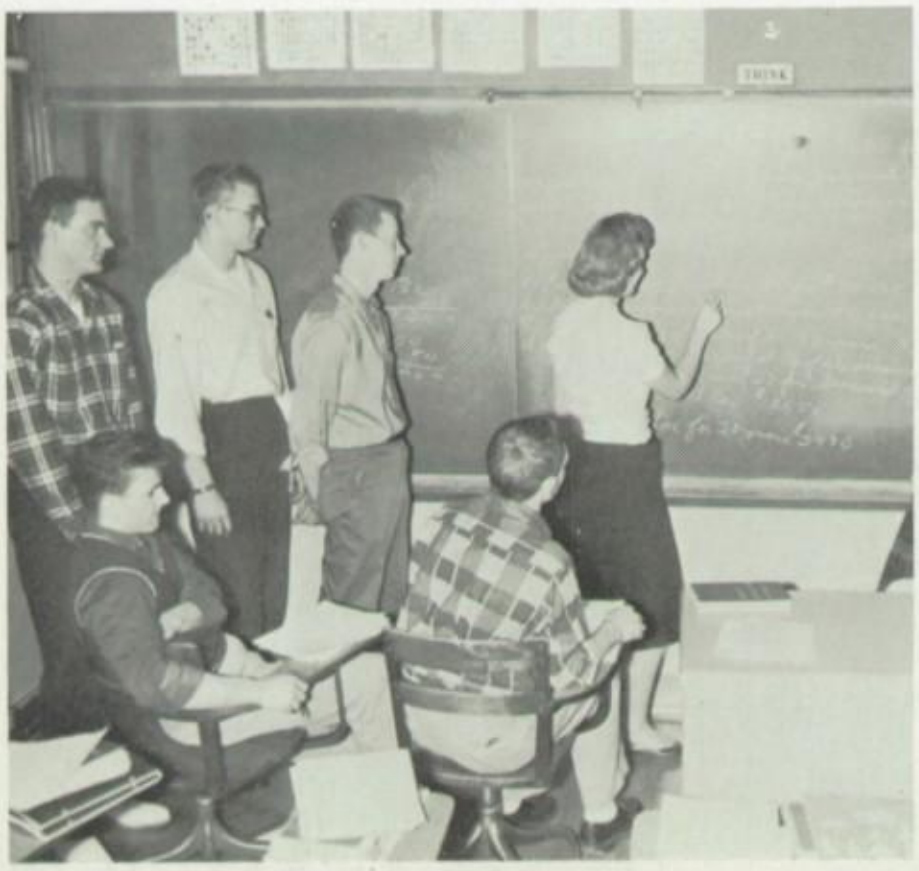
Mr. Robert G. Wright A.B. Western Michigan University. Algebra and Geometry, Varsity Basketball and Baseball Coach. Sponsors Varsity Club.

mathematics

Did you know that a pool table is considered a fashionable article of apparel, at least this was indicated by one of the seniors in his clothing inventory.

Buying a house? Tax trouble? Living on a budget? Just ask one of the Consumers Mathematics pros. They know all about it! Anyway they should.

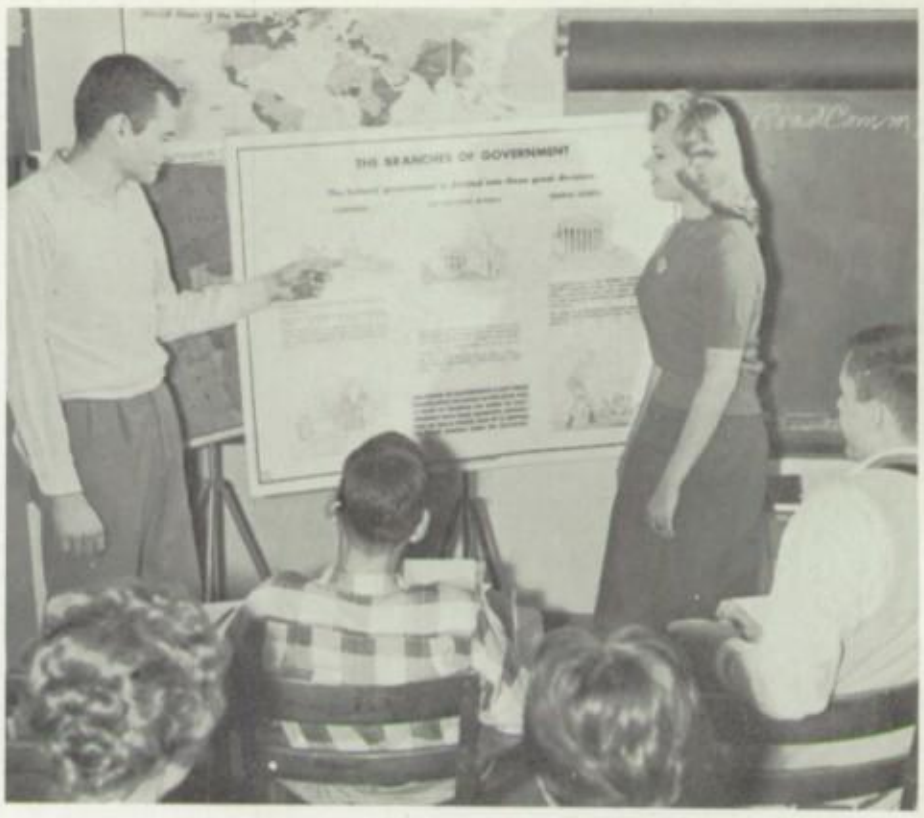
Bob Molenkamp, Bob Van Kampen and Bob Slagter look on as Sharon Koster works a problem in Consumer's Math.



x-2y2+3z+4=0 This is an example of the algebra problems that tire the minds of prospective mathematicians. Before the course is completed, almost everyone knows how to work equations and story problems. In geometry, squares, (the kind drawn on paper) circles, and triangles, are all studied.

Algebra Class focuses their attention on problems on the board.

Martin De Mull shows a film to the Economics Class, Judy Chmurynski, Jim Loosenort and Gary Bowerman (with apple) form a part of the Class.



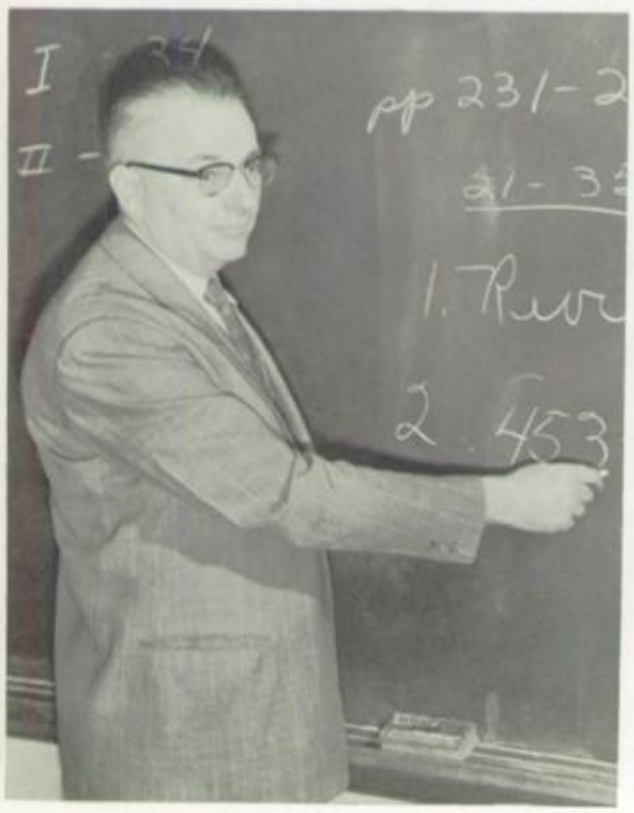
Dave Crow and Judy Bouwhuis explain various branches of the government to the Civics Class.

SOCIAL STUDIES

It your outgo is larger than your income; your upkeep will soon become your downfall. Statements like this and others similar to it are familiar to the economics class. Although many topics covered by this class seem unimportant at times, the knowledge will soon prove valuable.

A new teacher!! He was captain of the Hope College Basketball team last year!!

Although some of the civics students thought that their education in civics class would sound something like this: ". . . and we were playing in a press. We had set up a 3-2 defense. The . . ." It sounded more like this: "The Constitution grants us the freedom of press and provides for the common defense." A little disappointed but eager to learn, students soon became involved in government procedure.



Mr. Franklin Rynbrandt A.B. Western Michigan University, University of Michigan and Hope. Economics and 8th grade Arithmetic, 8th grade session.

Mr. Dwayne Teusink A.B. Hope College. Civics, 8th grade history and English. Reserve Football, Reserve Basketball and Assistant Track.

Barb Warren reads from the Newsweek magazine to the U. S. History class.

history

Mr. Lynn Post: A.B.; Hope College and University of Michigan. Teaches U. S. History and English. Assistant football coach, head tennis coach, and Varsity Club Sponsor.

What caused the wars? Why were these leaders great? Where was the Battle of the Bulge? Why all the homework? Just a few questions answered by the Lee history classes. Whether near-lands or far-lands, the students review the ancient times, the medieval times and now the events occuring in our modern world.

A number of movies were shown to the classes for a more interesting and more complete illustration of the different phases of history.

Mr. Jay Lieffers: A.B., M.A.; Calvin College, Western Michigan University, and University of Michigan. Teaches Review English, Journalism, World History. Debate coach, Senior Play director, Ariel sponsor, National Honor Society sponsor, and Quill and Scroll sponsor.

John Buckley and Doris Whitbeck point out historic cities to the World History class.

Mr. James Skidmore: B.S.; Ferris Institute. Bookkeeping teacher and Echo sponsor.

Sue Kamradt, Bill Cole, and Ed Chapple watch Diana De Young operate the Friden Calculator.

COMMERCIAL

Everything was fine the first semester in bookkeeping. Everyone knew that the debit went on the side toward the windows. Second semester brought disaster; however, as someone re-arranged the room.

Many tedious lab sessions were spent doing practice sets, looking for errors, filing sales slips, looking for errors, figuring payrolls, looking for errors, etc. There were many who spent time after school looking for a lost debit or misplaced credit.

Ed Chapple was the hottest student in typing — he sat next to the radiator. However, he was never excused from the daily warm ups. The big problem in typing seems to be this: if you have speed you lose accuracy; if you are accurate you have no speed. The speed test seems to have been devised to see how many errors one can make in the shortest possible time—at least it always turns out that way.

Miss Sally Wanenmacher: A.B.; Western Michigan University. Teaches Typing and Stenography; also freshman class sponsor.

The typing students practice their warm-up drills.

Mrs. Neva Kinsey: A.B.; Hillsdale College and University of Michigan.

LIBRARY

To many students, the library is a foreign room. This ought not to be so because there are many really good books and magazines for the student's use. For the boys there are sports magazines and books, adventure, and mystery stories. Girls can find a large selection of magazines on fashions and the all important topic-dating. Many fiction stories are at the fingertips of the student. All you need is a 5-minute pass and you are on your way to get a book that will hold your interest from cover to cover.

Jack Camp and Rich Willemsen examine their drawings.

Mr. Keith Morrison: B.S.; Western Michigan University. Mechanical drawing teacher and Sophomore Class sponsor.

manual arts

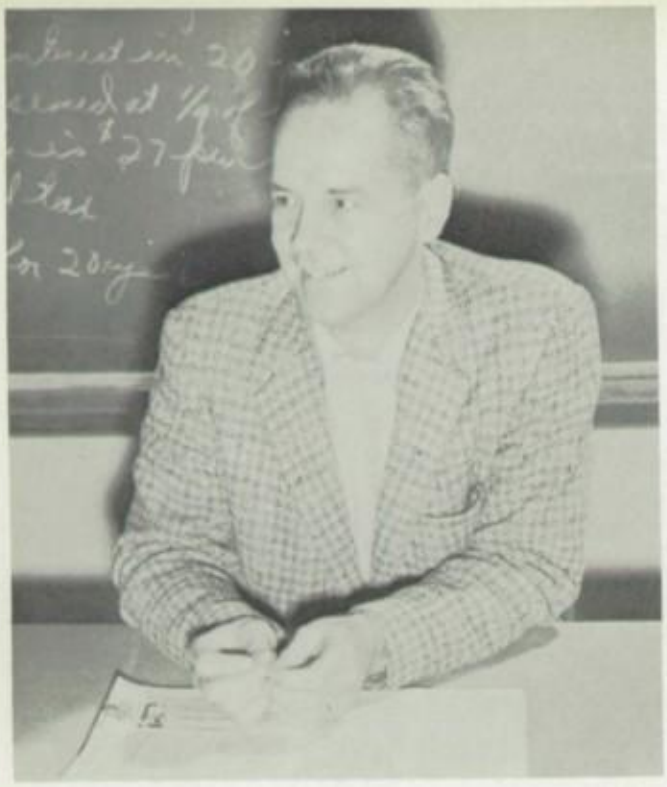
An angle here an angle there, — here a curve, there a curve, everywhere a zig-zag — the drawing boys are busy at work!

Calmly in the corner is seated Mr. Morrison, checking the plates with a magnifying glass.

Their next door neighbors are busy "doing it themselves" with such projects as tables, shadow boxes, book ends, and chests.

Mr. John Gabrion: B.S.; Central Michigan College. Industrial arts instructor and reserve baseball coach.

Industrial arts: John Babcock, Dan Bouwhuis, Alvin Droog, Tom Lapp, and Jim Didion examine their work.



Mr. Roy Lakanen: B.S.; Western Michigan University and University of Michigan. Business education and co-op.

Miss Dorothea Huizinga: Western Michigan University; Iowa State University; George Peabody College; Michigan State University. Home Economics and freshman Y-Teen sponsor.

co-op home ec

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach." With this inspiration, the eighth, ninth and twelfth grade girls enrolled in the home economics course with smiles.

Burned cookies, unbalanced meals, mismatched plaid and other ordeals were soon conquered by these energetic girls.

Do-Re-Mi-Fa-So- What's all the "Hullabaloo" about? Every morning the Senior Choir meets to exercise their vocal chords. After the members have given their chords a workout in talking, they try singing. The annual trip to district was canceled when it was discovered that it occured during the time of the "Senior Trip". During the absence of our director, Miss Brink, Mr. Edward Palmer took over the difficult task.

Miss Grace Brink: De Paul University, B.M. AND M.M. degree.

Mr. Sabin gives Mary Hankamp the keys to the driver training car.

DRIVER TRAINING

Mr. Sabin: B.S.; Western Michigan University. Athletic director at Lee. Teaches physical ed. and driver training, coaches football and track.

What would you do if you were driving down a steep hill and your brakes failed? Turn on your lights and blow your horn. Believe it or not that's what one student answered.

When the driver training class isn't giving wrong answers they are busy learning the art of pointing a car down the road and avoiding traffic officers. The end of each semester saw smiling students with new licenses, a driver training car a little the less for wear, and two very nervous driving instructors.

GYM

Miss Nelson: B.S.; Michigan State University. Girls physical ed. teacher. Sponsors G.A.A., cheerleaders, and Rebelettes.

SENIORS

In September, a group of Rebels officially became seniors. This past year was a busy and short one for them. After electing officers, the class started plans for the homecoming. The homecoming, this year, saw the first King in its history. The court had four members serving the Queen.

In March, the Senior play, "December Bride" was presented. The following month, Washington D. C. was invaded by the Seniors.

June suddenly came, and the Seniors had to bid farewell to their Rebel home. Four years of study, activity, and fun have finally become just memories.

JUNIORS

The upcoming Seniors are always a very active group. Their biggest project is the annual Junior-Senior Prom, this year scheduled for June 5.

In the fall the Juniors start off with elections and a magazine selling campaign. Later in the year the class sold "Lee High" pins.

Highlighting the year, the Juniors finally reached the point of receiving their class rings.

With the fall term comes the great high school sport of football. The team displayed high spirits and veteran experience.

At the pep assemblies the cheerleaders and students proved that they were behind their team all the way.

Queen Marge Nylaan and King Tom Thompson at the Homecoming dance, "Autumn Nocturne."

Lee students attend one of the numerous dances held after the basketball games.

Manager, Marcia Dykhouse reviews upcoming number of the Rebelettes with former members: Joy Bnozheim, Mary Lou Jipping and Carol Beugelink.

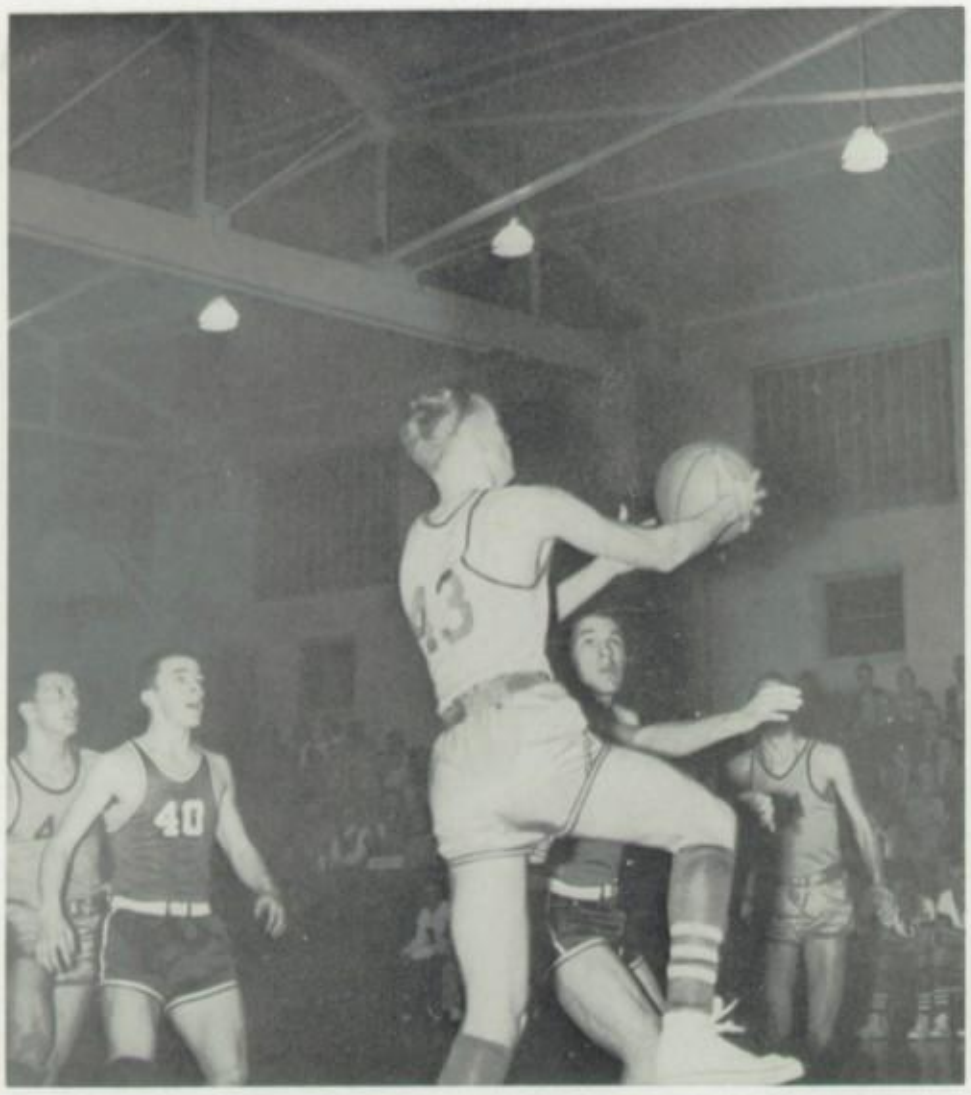
Lloyd C. Fry, Bruce Johnson and Al Deal presented the new Lee Rotary football trophy. The trophy will be awarded to the winning school of the Lee-Rogers football game. The trophy is now in Roger's possession.

Sherry Babcock is one of the efficient hall monitors who help to keep our halls quiet.

Pat Poelman, Nancy Buikema and Carol Beugelink make up the popular Triple Tones. Sharon Koster accompanies the trio.

The Rebels are really in orbit at the Freshman's "Satellite Swing."

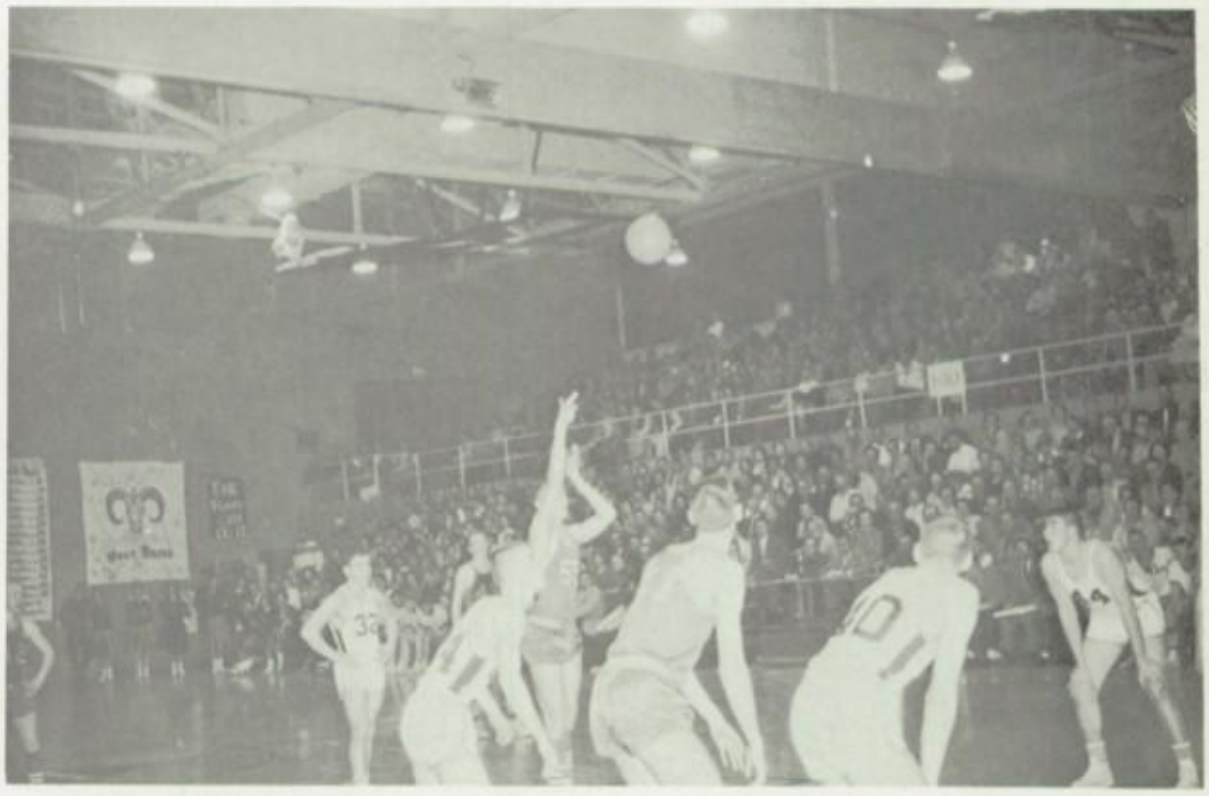
George Graeber, Ariel editor, goes over the layout with other members of the Staff: Doug Buchanan, Mary Lou Jipping, Pat Hewartson and Russ Reeder.



The Rebels had the most successful year in Lee's basketball history this season. Dan Mehling (left) shows his outstanding rebounding skill.

The faculty had a rough time trying to double the score against the Hi-Y boys. The Hi-Y fellows had to face strong opposition like "Shufflin' Sabin", "Wrestlin' Wright" and "Poppin' Post" in the annual Hi-Y-Faculty game.

The Lee Rebels made a habit of winning the close ones this year. In the regionals the Rebels slipped by Wayland by a score of 60-62.



By pushing through the first round the Lee quintet earned the right to go against the team from Holt. They came out as the victorious Regional Champions.

March 20, was the night of the Senior Play. "December Bride" made a hit with the audience as the Lee students portrayed well-known characters.

Ruth Hollenbeck, Barb Warren, Gayle Kendall, Sharon Babcock and Bob Robson listen as Mr. Jay Lieffers reviews the script.

"Whom shall I ask out during twirp season," wonders Terri Whitten during Mr. Post's English class.

Two banquets were held the same night in Lee High School during the month of March. The annual Latin banquet and the cheerleaders' banquet.

student council

This year the representatives from each club and class assembled for their bi-weekly meetings, After the brawl between the Rebel-Rites and the Dixiecrats, the council settled down to governing our school. This year the council has been attempting to establish a system of student government and a method for electing officers in the spring. Gordon Konyndyk was treasurer. Gordon Konyndyk did a good job. Gordon Konyndyk wrote this copy.

DEBATERS

For eight years, Lee High's Debate team won just enough debates to qualify for the Regional Tournaments. For eight years they were defeated in the first round.

This year the teams were undefeated in league competition. They went to the Regionals full of confidence. For the ninth year in a row they were defeated in the first round. Oh well, as someone once said, "Wait 'til next year."

Why teens? No, Y-Teens. This year the Senior Y-Teens have kept themselves pretty busy. Under the capable leadership of Miss Ferguson, this money-hungry group of young ladies swelled their treasury by leaps and bounds. Among their financial projects were a hot-dog luncheon and a dance.

During the Spring some of the girls attended College Campus Tours which were sponsored by the Grand Rapids Y-Teen Chapter.

VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club, comprised of letter winners in athletics and management, enjoyed a year full of activities. Under the guidance of Mr. Robert Wright and Mr. Lynn Post, the club promoted its annual Varsity Swing and the Freshmen Basketball Tournament. In addition, the organization sponsored the sale of Rebel flags and pennants. They also ran a basketball booth at the P.T.A. Carnival.

This year the club laid plans for a trophy, which would be presented to the member with the best scholastic and athletic achievements.

hi-y

"Now look you guys, Hi-Y is more than just a basketball club. We should do more constructive things like . . . like . . . oh well, you get the idea."

In spite of these inspiring words the Hi-Y's chief function was that of a basketball club. As a matter of fact, they formed two separate squads this year. When asked how the teams were doing the only reply was "Better than last year."

The boys got a chance to display their superb athletic skill as the faculty once again defeated them by a score of . . . no, we better not tell.

First row: Jim Vander Meer, Dave Hoek, Jim Curtiss, Bob Kerkstra, Doug Buchanan, Jerry Daily, Bill Nash, Larry Merryweather, Dave Crow, Ed Chapple, Mr. Howard Laman. Standing: Marlene Hopp, Treasurer; Sharon Dykhouse, Secretary; Sue Robson, Student Council Representative.

Any girl in the ninth, tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade can be a member of this organization. Every Thursday night that the gym is available, a group of happy-go-lucky members of the tender gender could be found doing almost anything in the line of exercises. Miss Nelson, the sponsor, could be seen trying to keep order while the girls make like monkeys and swing from the rafters on the rope. In order to break the regular routine, the girls often went swimming at the Y.M.C.A.

Friends, Romans, and Countrymen lick your fingers and pass the potatoes. Eat two Brutus — they're small. No, it wasn't the Ku-Klux-Klan convention; it was the annual Latin Club banquet. In full attire of togas or bed sheets and a wreath of leaves around their heads, the Latin club showed up for the now conventional dinner of fried chicken and string beans.

The club also sponsored the "Final Fling" to ease the students minds after studying for semester exams.

For membership in this club, you must take Latin for two years.

SENIOR CHORUS

moh may mee moh moo

Sound familiar? It should! It's been drummed into your head since grade school. How could you forget?

When Miss Brink returned from the hospital it was such a shock that the piano flipped, the music stand doubled up and the students actually sang!

Where else can you sing Christmas carols before the frost is on the pumpkins, Easter hymns in January? Where else? In the echoing conservatory.

Seated: Charlotte Barton, Treasurer; Joy Bonzheim, Secretary; Nancy Buikema, President.
Standing: Jim Curtiss, Assistant Treasurer; Miss Brink, Sponsor; Sharon Dykhouse, Vice-President; Dave Crow, Student Council Representative.

pep band

"One-eyed, one-horned, flying, purple, people eater," was a favorite tune of Lee's talented pep band this year.

This swinging group entertained at pep assemblies and all home basketball games. Whether our team was behind or ahead, the band played on, and on, and on. . . . .

SENIOR

Before most of the students were even thinking of returning to school, the band was busy marching in the cow-pastures of Indiana. Their efforts paid off, though, as they received first place at the Red Flannel Festival in Cedar Springs.

When concert season came around, the band again displayed the superior Rebel spirit and at the Michigan Band and Orchestra Festival held at Union High School, came home with four first division ratings. This is the first time in the history of Lee High School that the band has received so many high ratings. To conclude the year's work, the Band participated at the Tulip Festival in Holland. A few weeks later, the band returned to Holland, Ottawa Beach that is, to have their annual beach party.

Drum Major George Graeber.

SENIOR PLAY

The "December Bride" was a littel late getting to Lee; in fact, she didn't arrive until March 20. However, the senior Thespians proved that it was worth the wait. Under the direction of Mr. Lieffers, the cast had a happy romp through a situation comedy based upon the television series of the same name.

Long after the cast names have faded from the back of the flats, everyone will remember the supposedly unrehearsed love scene that ended the third act.

The Cast:
Charlotte Barton as Lily
Jim DeYoung as Pete
George Graeber as Matt
Carol Beugelink as Ruth
Sharon Koster as Hilda
Bob Robson as Mr. Ridley
Phyllis Boice as "Mother" Mabel
Gordon Konyndyk as Tom Anderson
Student Director, Sharon Babcock

Hilda (Sharon Koster) enters as Matt (George Graeber) and Ruth (Carol Beugelink) quibble over a checking account.

Lily (Charlotte Barton) and Tom (Gordy Konyndyk) quibble over who has the next line.

Joy Bonzheim, Pat Poelman, King Tom Thompson, Queen Marge Nylaan, Sharon Dykhouse and Nancy Graeber.

homecoming

A football victory (19-6) over the Byron Center Bulldogs made a splendid Homecoming for the Rebels. The 1959 Homecoming Queen was Marge Nylaan. Reigning with her was the first Lee Homecoming King, Tom Thompson. This year, four girls served on the court. Nancy Graeber, Joy Bonzheim, Sharon Dykhouse, and Pat Poelman graciously escorted their Queen.

After the game, Homecoming festivities continued with a dance, "Autumn Nocturne", at the school gymnasium. The Alumni met for refreshments in the home economics room.

2nd row: Diane Allen, Louise Nauta, Pam Hulst.

cheerleaders

The Lee cheerleaders went all out this year to back their team. With pep, with enthusiasm, and with (out?) practice, the vital cheering squads led the rousing responses of the Rebel fans.

Rebelettes

Our Rebelettes have become quite an asset to Lee. The girls performed at several basketball games and received invitations from various organizations for appearances. Fashionable Scottish attire was donned by these Dutch darlings as they danced to the tune of the "Irish Washwoman."

Back row: Linda Jipping, Pat Klotz, Georgia Sietsma, Diane De Young, Diane Robson, Sue Sullivan, Donivee Snape, Bernice Moore, Marcia Jeltes, Fran Bailey. Front row: Doris Whitbeck, Bonnie White, Mary Klute, Nancy Chmurynski, Judy Ardema, Barb Warren, Jackie Ainsworth, Karen De Jonge.

varsity football

Competing in the first season of play in the newly formed O-K Conference, the Lee varsity football team was able to post a 2-1-1 record. The spirited play of the team was responsible for the Rebel's tie with Kelloggsville for second place in league competition. In non-league encounters, the Rebel's posted a 3-1 record, thus finishing the season with an overall total of 5-2-1.

A well balanced offense and a fast, determined line were the main factors in the winning record.

The offensive play centered around an explosive backfield which was ranked among the tops locally. Their tremendous passing and running plays were a treat Lee fans had not enjoyed in many years. The defensive line was anchored by a number of players with depth and experience.

Aggressiveness and a will to win were evident in the season's play. The knowledge gained by the underclassmen who served on the team will prove to be a valuable asset in future years.

Reserve Football

Led by two new coaches, Mr. Dwayne Teusink and Mr. Edward Dykstra, the Reserve football team enjoyed one of the best years in its history.

After losing the first game, a non-conference encounter with Forest Hills, the Little Rebels came roaring back to be undefeated the remainder of their games. Lee's Reserves captured first place honors in the O-K Reserve League with a 4-0 record.

A well organized offense and defense coupled with fiery determination to come out on top was the winning formula for the Second Team.

The experience gained by these freshmen and sophomores will help bolster the Varsity team for years to come.

Coach Edward Dykstra

Basketball champions

The basketball team opened the season with a victory, and twenty-one games later closed out the season with a defeat at the hands of Muskegon Christian in the state quarter finals. Between the first and last games, the Rebels captured three trophies. They finished regular season play with a 6-2 record, good enough for a co-championship in the O-K League.

At the end of the district tournaments, the Rebels had come through with a smashing victory over Comstock Park and a thrilling overtime win over arch-rival Rogers. This earned them another trophy and a place in the Regionals.

In Regional play, our team came from behind to defeat Wayland by two points and found themselves up against Holt. Before the contest, Holt was ranked seventh among the Class "C" teams in the state. After the game, which was a double overtime thriller, the Rebels proved that ratings mean very little as the Holt Rams went down to defeat and Lee became the new Regional Champions. In the state quarterfinals, Lee was eliminated by Muskegon Christian, this year's state runner-up in Class "C".

RESERVE SQUAD

Although the reserve team this year was lacking in height, they managed to control the boards in most of their games.

This scrappy team shot a good percentage from the floor and also had a fairly good free throw average.

This year the team seemed to be jinxed during the first two quarters but generally made a strong comeback in the remaining periods.

Only two freshmen were members of the reserve squad this year. All others were from the sophomore class.

freshmen basketball

The freshmen were fortunate to have a well balanced team. Their overall height was one of the big factors in many of their games.

They learned the fundamentals of basketball which will later prove of value to them in their second team basketball.

The freshmen lost two guards who played an important role on the second team.

Their participation in the freshmen tournaments climaxed the season. Although they lost the first game, they gained the experience of playing before a large crowd.

Dear Mrs Osterink,
I truly enjoyed being in your classes in the 8th grade. I only wish you taught other subjects, so as I could have you as my teachers in different subjects as I procede in high school. My sister Marilyn is truely looking forward to having you next year as her teacher. Summer is here and help around the house is needed. I really enjoyed myself this year.
I thank you for everything that you did for me. I enjoyed you as my home-room teacher.
I'll see you next year.
Good by for now.
Pat Fryling

Dear Mrs. Osterink,

It has been wonderful knowing you during this marvelous year here at Lee. I will treasure your encouraging smiles, which helped me so much, as well as your encouraging words.
